

Way To Redemption

Dozer

Reminds me of a lizard,
now it is the milkyway...
And like the cobra strikes,
shed some dirt as you would say...

There is no use to even try...try...
The judgement taken by surprise...surprise...

A whirlwind scattered 'cross,
abuse is never acting fair...
Redemption scratched and lost,
like you'd never understand...

There is no use to even try...try...
The judgement taken by surprise...surprise...

And now the fire's spreading,
all you gotta do is say...
But your mouth's got a million tongues,
and the laughter remains...
We hunted down your magic,
like a missile in it's prime...
And they say that nothing's won,
well we can't complain...

Pull out your gun that's how,
that right your trying to defend...
The scent is shipped around,
the deed is better than the blame...

There is no use to even try...try...
The judgement taken by surprise...surprise...

And now the fire's spreading,
all you gotta do is say...
But your mouth's got a million tongues,
and the laughter remains...
We hunted down your magic,
like a missile in it's prime...
And they say that nothing's won,
well we can't complain...
