

Intensive Care

Dragon

In a big Cimcatti
In a little Honda
Days in your darker room
Nights in your car
Your passion is pretending
That your life's okay
But in a hour I'll find you
On the same freeway

Come down from your window
Don't drink all the wine
You can drown in your memories
That was then but now it's fine

In the eyes of a stranger
In the younger lover's kiss
Is the element of danger
That I think you miss
On the promise of an alley
Drinking cheap champagne
Days you don't remember
Nights you can't explain

Come down from your window
(Window)
Don't drink all the wine
(Wine)
You can drown in your memories
(Memories)
That was then but now it's fine

Spend your life in dreams living off air
Things you can't replace you must repair
I know you need intensive care
You need intensive care
Intensive care
Intensive care

Just the mood of the moment
You're in the middle of life
From a space walk avender
Want to cut all night
In the depth dark danger
Is the card you ride
In the eyes of a stranger
Is the path you find

Things you can't replace you must prepare
One look at your face and I'm aware
I know you need you intensive care
You need intensive care

Come down from your window
(Window)
(Wine)

(Memories)

That was then but now it's fine

Spend your life in dreams living off air

Things you can't replace you must repair

I know you need intensive care

You need intensive care

You need intensive care

You need intensive care

What you need

You need intensive care

Intensive care

You need intensive care

I know you need intensive care

Intensive care

You need intensive care

What you need

You need intensive care

Intensive care

You need intensive care

I know you need intensive care

Intensive care

You need intensive care

What you need

Intensive care

Intensive care

You need intensive care
