

A Path Of Its Own

Dream On, Dreamer

Searching for what's too hard to find.
Expressing me being left behind.
All I ever wanted,
Has opened its eyes.

On my own for so many years.
Been trapped, been chased, been fighting fears.
I've seen the dead with its fake blushed smile ahead.
I choose to follow my dreams instead.

So who the fuck do you think you are?

I won't float away, won't let this grief abandon me.
Giving up our hearts, for the life we dedicate.

I've seen the dead with its fake blushed smile ahead.

On my own for so many years.
Been trapped, been chased, been fighting fears.
I've seen the dead with its fake blushed smile ahead.
I choose to follow my dreams instead.

I won't float away, won't let this grief abandon me.
Giving up our hearts, for the life we dedicate.

On my own for so many years.
Been trapped, been chased, been fighting fears.
I've seen the dead with its fake blushed smile ahead.
I choose to follow my dreams instead.

I won't float away, won't let this grief abandon me.
Giving up our hearts, for the life we dedicate.
