

Slow Ride Argument

Drive-By Truckers

When it's been too long since tranquility found you
And the vibe from your baby's a hornet's nest
Before you go puttin' crosshairs between you and hindsight
And give in to the clenchin' creepin' into your fist

Don't go takin' it out on anything but the highway
Let her go, my friend
Let the outside air in
Get two tall boy beers, not one, not three
No radio edits permitted
Only live with the breakdown, live with the endin'

Slow ride argument
If you're as mad at the end as you were when you began
Slow ride argument
There's no goin' home again

Slow down, take it easy
Slow down, take it easy
(There's no goin' home again)
Slow down, take it easy
Slow down, take it easy
(There's no goin' home again)
Slow down, take it easy
(When it's been too long since tranquility found you)
Slow down, take it easy
(There's no goin' home again)
(And the vibe from your baby's a hornet's nest)
Slow down, take it easy
(There's no goin' home again)
Slow down, take it easy
(Don't go takin' out on anything but the highway)
Slow down, take it easy

Let her go, my friend
Let the outside air in
Get two tall boy beers, not one, not three
No radio edits permitted
Only live with the breakdown, live with the endin'

Slow ride argument
If you're as mad at the end as you were when you began
Slow ride argument
There's no goin' home again

[illegible]

Slow down, take it easy
