

Ramble and Roll

Dropkick Murphys

Driving down the highway and I've got no lights dreaming about my future,
but it's fading away in the night
what do you want out of life when you don't play by the rules I've got no expectations and I fully expect to lose

'Cause I was born to ramble I was made to roll living my sticki n' life in yesterday's rock and roll

I drink in dirty bars 'cause they serve bigger drinks and I don
't own fancy cards
I take the train and man it stinks, yeah, I play music but I do't hang out with stars and if I need money I'll just pa wn a few guitars

I may speak gibberish, but I don't talk shit and I'm not one for book smarts but I'm known for my barroom wi t!
