

Still Pray for You

dvsn

You don't know if I'm okay
Wouldn't tell you if I wasn't
So I guess I'm to blame
People tried to play me but we know the game
Can't return your problems
You can just exchange them
For other ones and other things
People, that's what money brings
No time for temporary
My friends are my family, so they stuck with me
Ain't gotta worry bout nothin', they fuck with me
Everything is all about what you got these days
My circle been looking more like a dot these days
Can't get my real family in the same room and
All these brand new people act like family reunion
I lost my dawg the other day he got took away
And I don't try to hide the pain I just look away
Everyday I'm pulling strings, Bolognese
No, you don't look at me the same

But I want you to know I haven't changed
I want you to know I haven't changed
I want you to know I haven't changed
Yeah, you know at heart I'm still the same
I want you to know I haven't

I still wait for you
I still wait for you
I still pray for you
I still pray for you
I still pray for you

I still wait for you
I still pray for you
I still pray for you
I still pray for you
I still pray for you