

Awaking the Monster

Dymytry

You said you'd help me

When I feel weak

When life turns sour

And I can't sleep

You said you'd destroy

My enemies

Well now I need you

To wipe my bloody tears

All I do is to try and hide you

But there's just no way

First I want you to disappear,

Then I beg you to stay.

I want you to stay

It's burning

I couldn't see what's rising up before me

When it's all over, the memory's still burning

Nothing left but darkness in my eyes,

On my mind...

Awaking the monster in me tonight

You want to help me...

Well now I'm weak

You're an illusion

I'm just a freak.

You said you loved me

Like no one would

But I'm the one who's Misunderstood.

I remember the first time I felt

You pulling the strings

You're up there like a puppet master

Who's manoeuvring me

But i could not see

It's burning

I couldn't see what's rising up before me

When it's all over, the memory's still burning

Nothing left but darkness in my eyes,

On my mind...

Awaking the monster in me tonight

Nothing left but darkness in my eyes...

Nothing left but darkness and the monster!

Awake the monster!

Awaking the monster inside....!
