

First Times

Ed Sheeran

I thought it'd feel different playing Wembley
80,000 singing with me
It's what I've been chasing 'cause this is the dream

When it was all over, I cleared out the room
Grabbed a couple beers, just me and you
Then we start talking the way that we do

Ain't it funny how the simplest things in life can make a man
Little moments that pass us by
Oh, but I remember

The first kiss, the first night, the first song that made you cry
The first drink, red wine, on a step in Brooklyn
I still feel the first fight, but we both made it out alive
And I can't wait to make a million more first times

The greatest thing that I have achieved
Is four little words down on one knee
You said, "Darling, are you joking?"
And I just said, "Please."

Ain't it funny how the simplest things in life can make a man
Little moments that pass us by
Oh, but I remember

The first kiss, the first night, the first song that made you cry
The first look in your eyes when I said, "I love you."
I can still feel the butterflies from when we stumbled home that night
I can't wait to make a million more first times

Ain't it funny how the simplest things in life can make a man
Little moments that pass us by
Oh, but I remember

The first kiss, first night, first song that made you cry
First dance in moonlight in your parents' garden
I can't wait to see everything that's yet to be
Our first child, and then a million more first times
