

Superficial Cat

Edwyn Collins

At the blast that was the past
Came the superhuman brain
Set the universe aflame
Put the rest of us to shame

I looked to the skies with expectant eyes
Feeling bedazzled, humbled and small
The answer was clearly writ large on the wall
I ain't got time for all that
I'm a superficial cat
I'm in a dwam that's where I'm at
'Cause I'm a superficial cat

At the dawning of all time
In the black hole of his mind
All his secrets will be sold
As the infinite unfolds

I don't have time for all that
I'm a superficial cat
