Eighteen Visions

You told me
No apologies
But I'm sorry it couldn't cut the mustard
And it's absurd

Hey, you turned the light off
You gave me darkness
You sucked the blood
Right out of life

Are you running away from me?
Are you running away from you?
Are you running away from me?
Are you running?

You showed me
What I should see
But I'm still blind
And I can't breathe

You swallowed pride
Like someone...died
You chewed it up and spit it out
But no one's to be found now

Are you running away from me?
Are you running away from you?
Are you running away from me?
Are you running?

Are you running away from me?
Are you running away from you?
Are you running away from me?
Are you running? Are you running?
Are you running? Are you running away?

Hey, what are you running away from?
Hey, what are you running away from?

What are you running away from?

You told me
What I should see
But I'm still blind
And I can't breathe

Are you running away from me?
Are you running away from you?
Are you running away from me?
Are you running?

Are you running away from me?
Are you running away from you?
Are you running away from me?
Are you running? Are you running?
Are you running away?
