How can I unwind you, slipping in my own blood, When I can't unwind myself?

And oh, God, why can't I stop licking on my own wounds when I've found my place with you?

Make me a better love. Make me better, love. Make me a better love.

Because I've finally found out you're on my side with a bullet for the bad guys. Hallelujah.

Oh, I've finally found out you're on my side, and if you're my guide, I'm your guide. Hallelujah.

Fear finds weakness in numbers. That's why we stick close. We're gallant, we're strong, we're safe.

You chose me, you're the first born, and an angel. You're so brave.

Now I can brave myself.

Make me a better love. Make me better, love. Make me a better love.

'Cause I've finally found out you're on my side with a bullet for the bad guys. Hallelujah.

Oh, I've finally found out you're on my side, and if you're my guide, I'm your guide. Hallelujah.

Make me a better love. Make me better, love. Make me a better love.

Make me a better love. Make me better, love. Make me a better love.

'Cause I've finally found out you're on my side with a bullet for the bad guys. Now hallelujah.

Oh, and I've finally found out you're on my side, and if you're my guide, I'm your guide. Now hallelujah.
