

All I Have

Eleanor McEvoy

There was a time, I gave too much away
Many times, I craved a touch too deep
Now I stand, alone, alone
There was a time, that time has passed for me

All I have is me
All I need is me
All I want is me
All I've got is me

If you choose to lose yourself to me
Keep in mind to save your mystery
And my soul stays mine, alone
And yours may grow entwined but still is free

And the closest things to me are
And the things that set me free are
All the things that matter most 'cause
They're the things that bring me close to

All the sights and sounds that move me
And all the crazy loves that soothe me
Till all the higher truths surround me
Make a higher love around me

(All I have is me)
And the closest things to me are
And the things that set me free are
All the things that matter most 'cause
They're the things that bring me close to

(All I need is me)
All the sights and sounds that move me
And all the crazy loves that soothe me
Till all the higher truths around me
Make a higher love surround me

(All I want is me)
And the closest things to me are
And the things that set me free are
All the things that matter most 'cause
They're the things that bring me close to

(All I've got is me)
All the sights and sounds that move me
And all the crazy loves that soothe me
Till all the higher truths surround me
Make a higher love around me

(All I have is me)
They're the closest things to me are
They're the things that set me free are
They're the things that matter most 'cause
They're the things that bring me close to

(All I need)
All the sights and sounds that move me

And all the crazy loves that soothe me
Till all the higher truths surround me
