Chanting

"We, the host of Seraphim, the armies of bright, We do not rue the dire event That, with sad overthrow and foul defeat, hath lost us Heaven. Ever to do ill will be our sole delight, Reassembling our afflicted powers On the burning Lake of liquid fire. Hail horrours! Hail infernal World! Here at last we shall be free! Better to reign in Hell than serve in Heaven!"

Elend