

The world's spinning 'round
And I can not escape
From this decadence
That we're living in
So we drink, 'til we forget ourselves
Then we find ourselves
Lost among everythings
I'm crying out loud
I feeling tired
I used to be proud
But I guess I've expired
Oh, I know It'd be wrong
Oh, I know It'd be wrong
But I can't stand to live alone
You're my flesh and bone
I wanna write you a song
I wanna take you home
I wanna be your own
And in the dawn
When I wake up again
Closer to the end
Than I've ever been
If I saw your face
I know we could escape
To another place where
Things could be sinking in
I'm crying out loud
I feeling tired
I used to be proud
But I guess I've expired
Oh, I know It'd be wrong
Oh, I know It'd be wrong
But I can't stand to live alone
You're my flesh and bone
I wanna move to Rome
Far away from home
Where you could be my own
I'm feeling tired...
I'm crying out loud
I guess I've expired
Oh, I know It'd be wrong
Oh, I know It'd be wrong
But I can't stand to live alone
You're my flesh and bone
I wanna write you a song
I wanna take you home
I wanna be your own
Be your own
I wanna be your own
