

This is where we come alive
United underneath the skies above
Within our minds we pull the plug
Severing all connection and breathe creation
We pull the plug
We come alive

We are the awakening
We are what's left to find
We are the awakening
We will breathe life

We, we will rebuild and we'll survive
The cost of one man's life no more important than the other
We, we will rebuild we will survive
The cost of one man's life
No more important than the other

The secrets of time are dying for more Than the weakness of our existence holds (all that you are all that you'll ever,
be will be washed away,
washed away) (2x)
