

Don't tell me you give in
Don't let them compromise you
Realize your ideals
You're not a wimp

Surrendered people envies you holdins your good wish
They are trying to draw you into the loser's ring

You're the one told me I can do anything I want to
You're the one told me there is no royal road after all

They try to shake your faith
Because they lost their own
No one can ever prove you can't make it

Maybe one day you will see
If you can keep fighting
Your people are going along with you

You're the one told me I can do anything I want to
You're the one told me there is no royal road after all
I'm coming along

You're the one told me I can do anything I want to
You're the one told me there is no royal road after all
I'm coming along
