

My Bloody Holiday

ELLEGARDEN

It's raining hard outside
I never paid attention
But the sound of falling rain is too loud to ignore
I'm sitting here all day and watching at the TV
This is how I spend my first holiday of this year

While you have been beaten up by unfair rejection
I have been pretending not to see that but

Don't go away now
You can trust me
I won't let you go down
Just don't go away now
You can trust me
I won't let you go down

I've tried not to hear it
I've tried not to think of it
Never wanna get dragged into trouble
It's raining hard outside though I never paid attention
And the sound of falling rain is too loud to ignore

You are the one started fighting against the wrong things
I have been pretending not to see that but

Don't go away now
You can trust me
I won't let you go down
Just don't go away now
You can trust me
I won't let you go down never again
