

Johnny

Elysian Fields

You've been away So long, so long Now my hair is grey And so long, so long Your face continued to burn Long after the lamp was dry Sometimes there'd be a fog horn Deep in the night I'd hear it cry Johnny, Johnny, standing above me Hold me, Johnny I've given my heart to you See my face in the light The lines recite the hopeless nights But you look just the same As the day we met, I'll never forget You fed me a fig from your hands My master, the moon was high Feeling the heavens expand Deep in your arms I would sigh Johnny, Johnny, standing above me Hold me, Johnny I've given my heart to you Raise me up, Johnny Crush me, enfold me Is that you Johnny I've given my heart to you I've given my heart to you
