

Yours Truly

Embodiment

I want to know you're broken for the path you've chosen
I want to know you're reaping what you have sown
And I'll give you more than you've ever wanted
Faithful forever, with these words I promise
You want it, you got it, it's all for real
I want to know you're breathing for the day of morrow

I want to know you'll suffer to rest in peace
And I've given more than you've ever wished for Forever faithful, with these words I promise
You want it, you got it it's all for real
It's all for real - let it go
