

Nothing To Do With You

Émilie Simon

And the sky's burning down once again
The sky is a flame and you're not the same

You try to figure things out
Just try to understand why
You just wanna be back home now
You just wanna be back home

He picked you up and let you down
Just like you thought
Just like you saw
Just like you knew
He picked you up and let you down
Just like you thought
Just like you saw
Just like you knew

But it's nothing to do with you
Nothing to do with you
Nothing to do with you
Nothing to do with you

Came you just want to be back home now
You just want to be back home now
And stay away from him
Just be back home now
You just want to be back home
Stay away, stay away

He picked you up and let you down
Just like you thought
Just like you knew
Just like you saw
He picked you up and let you down
Just like you thought
Just like you knew

But it's nothing to do with you
Nothing to do with you

He picked you up and let you down
He picked you up and let you down
He picked you up and let you down
Just like you thought
He picked you up and let you down
He picked you up and let you down
He picked you up and let you down

And the sky's burning down once again
And the sky is a flame and you're not the same.
