

Falling Apart

Emma Louise

I feel like one of us is gonna end up far behind the finish line

I don't know why but I can just feel it
And I can see it shaping up, could be some kind of disaster
But I can't help but wanna see it through
There's something about me and you

But when I think that it won't work out
I just can't help but keep falling apart

I keep on falling, falling apart
I keep on falling apart
I keep on falling, falling apart
I keep on falling apart

And I guess I can sketch it out, write a script line for line on how I'd

Like you to say it, and how sweet it would be coming from your mouth

Mmh, and I keep asking questions but they can't be answered
By anything other than time itself, mmh

But when I think that it won't work out
I just can't help but keep falling apart

But I keep on falling and falling apart
I keep on falling apart
I keep on falling, falling apart, oh
I keep on falling and falling, I...
I keep on falling and falling, I...
I keep on falling, falling, and falling, falling

And tell me how can I build myself up for love, love
If I just keep on crumbling, crumbling down, mmh

Yeah I just keep on falling
I keep on falling and falling
Yeah I just keep on falling apart

But I keep on falling and falling apart
I keep on falling apart
I keep on falling, falling apart, oh
I keep on falling and falling, I...
I keep on falling and falling, I...
I keep on falling, falling, and falling, falling
