Hangman's Joke

End of Green

Raving madness in my head god loves fun, cause i'm not dead i'm out of control, the devil rejects my soul i'm not dead, i just don't live days just take, they never give make a wish and burn hoping my ashes may learn will it ever leave me, leave me alone will it ever leave me it has taken my soul this night, it's been done this life has been gone see what we found and see what we've done the hangman won't be on his feet back again so burn down this house for your own liberty you wanna break through the home of the sin where do you run, the losers will win beating me up, tearing me down don't turn around
