

Greater Haste

Endwell

No more ghosts
No more living life in limbo
No more ghosts
No more home you will never know just what it's like to watch your life get up and walk away with nothing you can do this time can't be replaced maybe another day
maybe another life you'll find another way/ ashes are all that you'll leave behind live each day like its your last and keep the pain inside so you outlived your dreams? all your passions have died? this my friend is not the end in time you'll come to find that life goes on but life's not long just move along keep moving on Moving On
trampled by the world
time and time again
Moving On
Til I Die
All your dreams have passed away and your faith in life is lost take the pieces of your life burn them all
move along
