

Crossing The Rubicon

Enter Shikari

Now we're crossing the Rubicon
We tried everything under the sun
So we're crossing the Rubicon
Cos it's too late, it's too late

Fill me out a prescription
For this existential dread
I woke up into a nightmare
And I'm hoping that you'll take me back to bed

But we can't turn back it's a labyrinth
Now the die is cast my friend (we endeavour)
Christ what a mess
I think Beckett said it best -
Try again, fail again, fail better

Now we're crossing the Rubicon
We tried everything under the sun
So we're crossing the Rubicon
Cos it's too late, it's too late

Fill me out a prescription
Can you free me from this curse?
I woke up inside your compass
And you're navigating us from east to worst

But we can't turn back it's a labyrinth
Now the die is cast my friend (we endeavour)
Christ what a mess
I think Beckett said it best -
Try again, fail again
Try again, fail again
Try again, fail again, fail better

Now we're crossing the Rubicon
We tried everything under the sun
So we're crossing the Rubicon
Cos it's too late, it's too late

Something's got to give
We've come too far to turn back
Something's got to give
We've come too far to turn back
Something's got to give
We've come too far to turn back
Something's got to give now

Now we're crossing the Rubicon
We tried everything under the sun
So we're crossing the Rubicon
Cos it's too late, it's too late
