

Marionettes (I. The Discovery of Strings)

Enter Shikari

Master

I think you owe them an answer
You've become so complacent
And they're becoming impatient

Vandal

You left their strings in a tangle
Since you turned to the liquor
Their eyes are starting to flicker, ohh

Thunder

They look up and they wonder
Are they controlled by the heavens?
They start to question their essence, ohh

Get it together

You know there's only one minute
Or they're gonna discover
You know there's only one minute
Get it together
You know there's only one minute
Or they're gonna discover
They're gonna uncover
Get it together
You know there's only one minute
Or they're gonna discover
You know there's only one minute
Get it together
You know there's only one minute
Or they're gonna discover
They're gonna uncover

Sober

Oh god I wish this was over
After dark and it's lights out
They can't believe their own eyes now, ohh

Get it together

You know there's only one minute
Or they're gonna discover
You know there's only one minute
Get it together
You know there's only one minute
Or they're gonna discover
They're gonna uncover
Get it together
You know there's only one minute
Or they're gonna discover
You know there's only one minute
Get it together
They're gonna uncover
