

The Appeal & the Mindsweep II

Enter Shikari

I am a mindsweeper, focus on me
I will read your mind

It goes on and on...

Through volatile territory
Through the plains of advertisy and the ravines of neurosis
Through the veins of gods and the valley of death

But remember you are not alone
And we dance knights
Here come the cavalry
The same blood gushes through my veins
Feel it surge

Sorry you're not a winner
With the air so cold and a mind so bitter

Sweep through jet streams
Down axons
And across synapses

Mutato nomine, de te fabula narratur
