

Now and Forever

Epysode

With her hands she covers her eyes
Now blind, she wanders as a ghost
Submerged in the dark sea she is cold as ice

Scary voices invade my head, I fear it
My name being called out across the real

Now and forever
Walking away from the light
It's now or never
We're walking down in the neverland

With her hands she covers her ears
Ghost within, she is her own god.
Looking like a haunted body, she is cold as tears

Scary voices are tricking my soul,
My name being called out from across the real

In the neverland

We're walking down

Scary voices invade my head, I fear it
My name being called out across the real
I'm walking away from the light

With her hands she covers her ears
Ghost within, she is her own god.
Looking like a haunted body, she is cold as tears

Scary voices are tricking my soul,
My name being called out from across the real

In the neverland

We're walking down

Scary voices invade my head, I fear it
My name being called out across the real
I'm walking away from the light
