

The Night

Eric Burdon

Well, here comes the night It's dark shadows passing over me I've been feeling the chill Ever since you been gone

I'm thinking of you, girl Wondering if you're going To return to me Or was it a waste of time All we've been through

When I'm all alone I don't have someone I can run to and baby, I ain't got no place to go

Don't you know that the night Keeps moving on (keeps moving on) it keeps getting colder and colder The night, is always too long (Always too long) I keep Looking over my shoulder

The night, I pray for the dawn (Pray for the dawn) it keeps getting colder and colder The night, is always too long Baby, you're gone

We could start again If only you would Reach out and touch me, girl Like a blind man I feel you deep down inside

I'm over the edge I'm sorry I hurt You so badly, girl The things that I said Just can't be denied

When I'm waiting here Hoping that someday you'll Return again, cause baby i feel like I'm losing control

Don't you know that the night Keeps moving on (keeps moving on) i keep looking over my shoulder The night, is always too long (Always too long) it keeps getting colder and colder The night, is always too long

(Pray for the dawn)

it keeps getting colder and colder The night, is always too long Baby, you're gone

My mind's running wild I feel like a child Who's lost again You've stolen my heart and you captured my soul

Don't you know that the night Keeps moving on (keeps moving on) i keep looking over my shoulder The night, is always too long (Always too long) Keeps Getting colder and colder

The night, I pray for the dawn (Pray for the dawn) Keeps getting colder and colder The night, I pray for the dawn cause baby you've gone the night, the night (Keeps moving on) Yeah, colder and colder

The night, always too long (Always too long) it keeps Getting c older and colder

The night, keep moving on (Pray for the dawn) keep Looking over my shoulder The night, it's always too long

The night
