

can't stop what's coming

Eric Hutchinson

so i get low destiny is fading much too fast
destiny is fading much too fast but i won't give it away they say you can't stop what's coming you can't stop what's coming

coming around
you can't stop what's coming
you can't stop what's coming
but if you try you get by somehow so i don't know happy accidents begin so small oh, happy accidents begin so small and they happen everyday

coming around
you can't stop what's coming

so we try so hard avoid where we come from who we are then one night we own the stars nothing we can do but wait on a broken twist of fate so i make choices and i live i take and then i give leave it up to circumstance luck is never even for us all fortunes rise and then they fall and it's all by chance so i've gotten lucky down the path never bothered with the math cuz it's not for me to say signs where i go are hanging there to let me know it's gonna be ok

coming around
