

Eye of God

Erra

I'm crawling out, this withering world is exhaustive
Vacuous space will be my coffin
Drifting weightless
Wandering through the void dead and aimless
Ashes to ashes, freed from the ties that bind
Defined by lack of connection
Infinite blackness, ubiquitous and cold
Enfold, I'm lost in the shadow

Lost light that has yet to be revealed
Feel the flow of empty endless spiral through the void
What's left to be broken is discarded

Lost light that has yet to be revealed
The blood is our reckoning
I feel the flow of empty endless spiral
Soaring through the void

I am a vessel of the generations
Withered and breathless
A coma chosen true, the void that followed suit
The world that we abused

Eye of God
No disruption of the rest
Death was always part of the process

The eye of god, it is hollowing
The speckled void, it is swallowing
Feel the flow of empty endless spiral
Soaring through the void

A step into a narrow consensus
Walking along the edge of the knife
With the restless eye ever watching
Weeping into perpetual abyss

Lost light that has yet to be revealed
The blood is our reckoning
I feel the flow of empty endless spiral
Soaring through the void
The eye of god, it is hollowing
The speckled void, it is swallowing
Feel the flow of empty endless spiral
Through the eye of god
