

Dance with a Stranger

Escape With Romeo

It's night in the city
You stay at home
you yearn for someone that keeps you from feeling alone

someone sent you sent you a rose
everybody needs love
you need an overdose

You were hiding under blankets the day after that he left early in the morning you were feeling bad

something ain't quite normal something ain't quite clear you can't remember his face It seems as he wasn't there

dance with a stranger

Tonight in your city
you can see the blue moon the stranger is waiting in your hotel room
