

Disbeliever

Electric Callboy

And all along I am a dreamer
Searching for something that cannot be found
You wanna make me a disbeliever
But I'm turning it up, up around
Turning it up and around
But I'm turning it up, up around
Turning it up and around

Everybody's trying to hold me down
Saying I've made my wings of wax
And I won't get off the ground
Cause people just show their backs
Everybody here is searching for something
Everybody here is made to believe in
Someone somebody do something
Something that'll make me whole
I can take on everythings
And nothing can bring me down
I'll rise up from the ashes
Others keep losing ground
Everybody here is searching for something
Everybody here is made to believe in
Someone somebody do something
Something that'll give them hope

And all along I am a dreamer
Searching for something that cannot be found
You wanna make me a disbeliever
But I'm turning it up, up around
Turning it up and around

Sometimes you gotta break away
Sometimes you gotta let it go
If nobody's gonna listen to you
Take the world on your own
Everybody here is searching for something
Everybody here is made to believe in
Someone somebody do something
Something that'll prove them wrong

And all along I am a dreamer
Searching for something that cannot be found
You wanna make me a disbeliever
But I'm turning it up, up around
Turning it up and around
And all along I am a dreamer
Searching for something that cannot be found
You wanna make me a disbeliever
But I'm turning it up, up around
Turning it up and around

And if they show their backs
And if there nothing left
Turning it up, up around
Up and around
Nothing can hold you back
If you just deal with it

(And all along I am a dreamer)

And all along I am a dreamer
Searching for something that cannot be found
You wanna make me a disbeliever
But I'm turning it up, up around
Turning it up and around

But I'm turning it up, up around
You wanna make me a disbeliever
But I'm turning it up, up around
Turning it up and around
