

Here Comes the Darkness

Everclear

Here comes the darkness again
Think I'm gonna spend some time in hell
Here comes the darkness again
I got no one to blame but myself, whoa-oh

Here comes the darkness again
Thought a couple of drinks might help me forget
Here comes the darkness again
I got no one to blame but myself

Everybody says I'm wasting my time
I sit and listen to rejection on the telephone line
Everybody says the pain is gonna slowly fade
Yeah, I tell 'em on a really good day
I can see the light
But it's so far away

Here comes the darkness again
I thought another pretty girl could help me forget
Here comes the darkness again
I got no one to blame but myself, whoa-oh

Here comes the darkness again
Gonna spend some time in hell with my friends
Here comes the darkness again
I got no one to blame but myself
I got no one to blame but myself

Everybody says I'm living in denial
I tell 'em that this is the only way I can cope
Everybody says I'm living in fear of the future
Yeah, I tell 'em that my fear goes in to live with my hope
Oh, on a really good day
I can see the light
But it's so far away

Here comes the darkness again
There's a light at the end of the tunnel
I can see it burning super bright and strong
I can see a light is shining at the end of the tunnel
Sometimes I think this tunnel is a million miles long
Oh, on a really good day
I can see the light
But it's so goddamn far away

Here comes the darkness again
Whoa-oh, whoa-oh
Here comes the darkness again
Whoa-oh, whoa-oh
Here comes the darkness again
Whoa-oh, whoa-oh
Here comes the darkness again
Whoa-oh, whoa-oh

Here comes the darkness again
Guess I'm gonna spend some time in hell
Here comes the darkness again

I got no one to blame but myself
I got no one to blame but myself
