Everyone Dies In Utah

"It's so dark
Nothing is coming to me clear
I fear there's nothing on the other side of here
Nothing to push me forward
Nothing to hold me back
So you can lock me up
And break my bones
Still I'll find my way back home
My way back home
Run away
Run away from here
Running
We're running from our fears
When you reach the light at the end of the tunnel
Will you be glorified or horrified
That this is the end now
There's no turning back
Crash and burn
Just wait your turn
Time is waiting
Time is waiting
Soon you'll learn
Who's that staring back at me in the mirror as I face reality
I think I'm losing my sanity
You can't control it
Not for a moment
Don't try to test cause in the end you'll never win

When you reach the light at the end of the tunnel
Will you be glorified or horrified
That this is the end now
There's no turning back
We can reach for the stars
Embrace what is ours
Kill time
Lose from the start
When it's hit or miss
We do it for ourselves
When we call it quits
We do it for ourselves
When ignorance is bliss
We do it for ourselves
When nothing else makes sense
We do it for ourselves
Run away
Run away from here
Running
Will you be glorified or horrified
Now there's no turning back"
