

It's so hard for me to carry this hate in my heart
But you tried to be the death of my art
So just keep begging for change
Using the name
While I make a difference
Being the change

You know I know just who you are
You never had me fooled not from the start
You're simply just a fake
With greedy eyes
You're bleeding lies

Diary I must confess
One day soon your true colors will show
When that day comes everybody will know
You're a parasite
Always a boy never a man
Leaching off fame whenever you can

You know I know just who you are
You never had me fool not from the start
You're simply just a fake
With greedy eyes
You're bleeding lies
