I die again

You are nothing, yet you are, everything to me Cold winter nights, kill me slowly I welcome every breath, it brings me Closer to the end, to nothingness

Settling waters, that run deeper, and deeper I close my eyes and drown in my sleep

You breathe me, you leave me I fade, I die again This is what I deserve

Here in the dark, this is where I belong Never afraid, but tired of feeling Murmurs of a past, I'm listening I can't help but hear your whispers
