

All hope is lost

Shattered in two,
I lay here a broken soul,
Waiting for this to be over

Will this ever change?
It seems we'll hold onto what we've forgotten,
I will not stand by and watch as innocence bleeds

All hope is lost

There is still hope left,
On this empty road,
It is up to us to fight,
For what we're owed

Even with the pain I still see through,
All the lies that stop the truth,
This kingdom was meant for us all,
Even with the pain I still see through,
All the lies that stop the truth,
This kingdom was meant for us all

There is still hope left,
Along this empty road,
It is up to us to fight,
For what we're owed

I'll hold on to this,
I'll hold on to this

Even with the pain I still see through,
All the lies that stop the truth,
This kingdom was meant for us all

Even with the pain I still see through,
All the lies that stop the truth,
This kingdom was meant for us all,
Even with the pain I still see through,
All the lies that stop the truth,
This kingdom was meant for us all
