

Little Girl in a World

Exilia

Just be quiet, little girl
They don't know about your world, they don't know
Save your heart, save your soul
They don't care about it all
And be strong
And be strong
And be strong
You're just a little girl, little girl,
Paralyzed when you're just one thing, one thing
You need to close your eyes,
Everytime you analyze everything is nothing
You're just a little girl, little girl
In a world they say you don't think, don't know
You've got to run and hide
Everytime they don't mind
And you feel nothing, nothing
Spread your wings to the sky
They don't know but you can fly, they don't know
Don't be right, don't be wrong
Just be everything you want
But be strong
But be strong
And be strong
You're just a little girl, little girl,
Paralyzed when you're just one thing, one thing
You need to close your eyes,
Everytime you analyze everything is nothing
You're just a little girl, little girl
In a world they say you don't think, don't think
You've got to run and hide
Everytime they don't mind
And you feel nothing, nothing
Keep your sweetness where you're going
In your loneliness when you don't feel right
Keep your sweetness where you're going
In your weakness if you're falling down
You're just a little girl, little girl,
Paralyzed when you're just one thing, one thing
You need to close your eyes,
Everytime you analyze everything is nothing
You're just a little girl, little girl
In a world they say you don't think, don't know
You've got to run and hide
Everytime they don't mind
And you feel nothing, nothing
You're just a little girl
You're just a little Girl
Keep your sweetness
Keep your sweetness
