

There Is No Point

Exploited

You're right you're right there is no point
So what's the point
We argue scream and start
To shout so what's the point

You're right again you're right again there is no point
What's the fucking what's the point

You moan when I go out with my mates
What's the point
You call me up again and again
What's the point

You're right again you're right again there is no point
What's the fucking what's the point

You moan you shout
You scream again
What's the point
Your face is tripping you
It's turning blue
What's the point

You're right again you're right again there is no point
What's the fucking what's the point
What is the point (4x)
What's the fucking point
