

The Raging Tides

Exumer

Desolate and trite this grows only dire
Watching your plight you're consumed in fire
Pestilence and fear raging across the sea
Desperate I near carry this decree

Penetrate our law's insane
Desecrate your lives in vain
Burry you and all your lies
As we bring the raging tides

Force with enemy turn lust to maim and kill
Crosses they will burn the signs of our will
To shreds you are torn we just watch and stare
From evil we were born the marks that we must bare

Enter all these ecstasies pleasures
Known to man losing all the sanctities we can't understand
Death will be spared to none
Preserve the urge to inflict pain as it serves us well
All our foes will be slain we'll meet them all in hell

Penetrate
Desecrate
Burry you

As we bring the raging tides
Radiant we rise in your blood for days
Mercy is denied as we count the slayed
The battle rages on the worst is yet to come
From evil we were born servants of the one

Penetrate our law's insane
Desecrate your lives in vain
Burry you and all your lies
As we bring the raging tides
