

Bad Translation

Failure

I'm sliding down the window pane
Watching you watching me
They're taking me away again
And from the sky, silence from a friend
Earth was our last chance but you want to pretend

We are hallucinations
We reappear in state
It's all a bad translation
There's something in our way

Watching me arrange your life
While you just collapse in mine
Dominoes and too much thought, in time
Earth was our last chance, but now it's your blind spot
You were my last chance, but now I'm all that you've got

It's all a bad translation
No one needs to know
You cannot trust your senses
But you can let them go

You cannot trust your senses
But you can let them go
Let them go
Let them go