Running Man

What kind of man am I A hero in the sky Some kind of idle child Believing my own lies Feel creeping up my spine Black holes in my brain Why this hurt is driving me insane

Running man I'm running for my life I'll do anything to arrive Where I can be free Running man I'm running for my life One day I see one day I know How to be free and where to go Running man oh, Running man

A road of no return A whisper in the dark Memories I try to learn A shadow, a fading spark Wings of forgetfullness I know I'm losing my mind Flying with broken wings So blind
