

Are You Sure?

Far

And if we fool ourselves, we get a lot of help
From people, not from G-d
Someone gives us choices and we just choose divorces
And I just want to know

Why you come and why you go?
And how you're always right
You know you're always right
You know you are, you know you are

But are you sure this is what you wanted
Are you sure this is what you wanted
Be careful what you wish for

And the fact that you don't get why I'm still so upset
Makes a lot of sense
So whether you were mean or just fucking dense
I just want to know

Why you come and why you go
And how you're always right
You know you're always right
You know you are, you know you are

But are you sure this is what you wanted
Are you sure this is what you wanted
Be careful what you wish for, be careful, be careful

'Cause every bruise is bought, and every scar is earned
But for all the beat-up hearts, for all the bridges burned
I wonder when we learn

That if we fool ourselves, we get a lot of help
From people, not from God

But are you sure this is what you wanted
Be careful what you wish for, be careful, be careful
