

You're Always The One

Ferlin Husky

When my world around me crumbles when in darkness I stumble
Who guides me walks beside me who shows me the sign
Who never mistreats me tells me she needs me
Who do I turn to you're always the one
Though my faults are many you'll never find any Praise me for some things condemn me for none
A vision of sweetness in a moment of weakness
Who do I turn to you're always the one
Sharing caring overlooking the wrong things that I might have done
Never demanding when I need understanding who do I turn to you're always the one Sharing caring overlooking...
You're always the one
