

Love Until Death

FGFC820

Twisted desire grows stronger inside
Each day the fire gets harder to hide
Obsession begins in fastidious ways
Skin touches skin in unsightly displays

I fear a smile is starting to show
As I'm looking down on your body below
With every heartbeat your vanity falls
With every whisper insanity calls

Love... love until death
I love you to death

These are the things that are bothering me
These are the sights that a man should not see
This is the poison I'm swallowing whole
These are the signs that I'm losing control

I wouldn't stay if I thought it would show
But I want it more than you EVER will know
Suck down my sorrow, get lost in the pain
My world is burning and I stoke the flames
