

A Gap Has Appeared

Field Music

At last a gap appears
A space in which to move

How could I have known before
What was it I was thinking

All time will show
I never say a word

Now, it's inescapable
When the objects are on show

The frequency increases
And everything collides

All the records tell
I never say a word