

Legacy

Fight The Fade

We've lost so much, but never given up
You still hold on, you fight for what you love
But I have let you down, a hundred times before
And as the end comes near, I just need to know

Will you remember me when the lights go down?
What kinda legacy will be here when I leave?
Can you look past the things that I did with regret?
What kinda legacy will be here when I leave?

Now I know I've made mistakes, I'll never take back
But you will never let me go, yeah you will never let me go
Our time here is so brief and grows shorter every day
Amidst the broken promises, I find a part of me to hold on to

Will you remember me when the lights go down?
What kinda legacy will be here when I leave?
Can you look past the things that I did with regret?
What kinda legacy will be here when I leave?

When I feel the icy hand of death
Reaching for my heart, beating in my chest
Will you remember me? Will I be anything?
I know my end is coming near
The one thing that I fear is that I won't leave a legacy

Will you remember me when the lights go down?
What kinda legacy will be here when I leave?
Can you look past the things that I did with regret?
What kinda legacy will be here when I leave?

When the lights do down
