Walking through the contradiction way In a world where for fashion your friend's gay You must try to be yourself Everyday and every night Live your life like a daily fight To get what you think is right for you I believe in what I said Can't you see it's alright? All around Nobody hears your voice Nobody hears you make this noise Make up your own mind All around No one can label you Nobody can judge what you do Make up your own mind

People could say you're a freak
Please don't care they make you sick
Keep on doing what you want to do
Like your father last year said
During the thanksgiving day:
'Fuck' em all, don't give a shit of them'
I believe in what I said
Can't you see it's alright?

All around
Nobody hears your voice
Nobody hears you make this noise
Make up your own mind
All around
No one can label you
Nobody can judge what you do
Make up your own mind
