

I Don't Want to Hear It

Firefall

I've heard the whole damn story too many Times to believe you now
I've seen you talking curtain calls from the start to the final blow
You keep makin' promises but I've heard it all before
I don't want to hear it anymore
I don't want to hear it anymore
I don't want to hear it anymore
Hear it anymore

You always say you're sorry just when you know you can change m y mind

I don't even know if the tears that you call are real Tell me how I feel

The same old explanation cannot explain what you've done to me
You've broken your promises and you hurt me so easily
You keep saying all the things but I've heard it all before

I don't want to hear it anymore
I don't want to hear it anymore
I don't want to hear it anymore
Hear it anymore
