

Some Things Never Change

Firefall

Same old lover with a different face
Same old people and a different place
Same old story
Same old song
Different actors in the same old scene
Different dreamers with the same old dream
Different problems
Same thing wrong
Some things will always be the same
Time after time I hear that sad refrain
Some people never learn the patterns in their pain
It's too bad
Some things never change
Same old picture in another frame
Same old story just a brand new name
Same old problems
From a different point of view
Different circles on the same old wheel
Different dealers but the same old deal
Different problems
Same old you